May 1st-3rd Rhinebeck Car Show Canceled

Notes from the Prez

Hi Everyone,

I hope all is well. It is a deep regret to announce that there will not be a Rhinebeck Car Show this year for the first time in nearly 50 years. We will just look forward to seeing you at the show in 2021 where we can finally celebrate our 50th anniversary.

On another note, our regular meetings are on hold. I truly believe you know the reason, we certainly don't have to be reminded of this cause. Once we get an all-clear, I will notify you when the meetings will resume.

For now, please be safe and God Bless to All.

Herb Lorenz

Welcome to the Coronavirus Edition of “From Your Editor’s Laptop”

Just a couple of tips to keep you healthy around your vehicles:

1. Have the blue nitrile gloves in all your daily drivers and vintage cars to use when you gas up. Who knows what nasty stuff is on them?
2. Also, keep hand sanitizer in all your vehicles. You can make your own hand sanitizer with $\frac{3}{4}$ of a cup of at least 90% isopropyl or rubbing alcohol and $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of aloe vera gel. Add a bit of lemon juice for scent.

As I noted in my last Grease Rag’s “From Your Editor’s Laptop” column, I will stay on as editor of Rag through 2020, but I would like to turn over to a new editor at the end of the year. Anyone interested in taking the Rag on should let me know and we can work together this year so that it will not be a big leap for the first issue next year.

As mentioned previously and, I am looking for member originated articles about our hobbies. Have a story about how you got interested in cars or how you acquired your car? Does your car have an interesting history? Got an automotive tall tale? Looking for that one last jewel to complete your collection? Got a collecting habit that could have our members scouting out possible acquisitions for you? Is there one that got away, much to your regret? Share your story and, (with apologies to Paul Harvey), the “Rag” can tell “the rest of the story.”

Steve

The Things You See at the 2020 AACA Annual Meeting in Philadelphia

1976 Vanguard CitiCar (EV)

1934 DeSoto SE Airflow Four Door Sedan

Circa 1910 Studebaker Electric Coach

Note the Dual Driver Seats

As seen on page 40 of the March/April 2020 “Antique Automobile”, this is one of two “coaches” built specifically for moving up to 12 passengers through the tunnel between the Senate Office Building and the U.S. Capitol. The tunnel was too narrow for the coaches to turn around, so there was a driver’s seat for each direction so that the driver could see where he was going without having to look over his shoulder.

Note - “The Things You See ...” is feature in each newsletter going forward. It highlights club vehicles and others seen at meets wherever, and on occasion will divert to unusual places or events when pictures are available. If you have pictures you would like to share, please send them to me at macnish1947@yahoo.com. ed.

So, What's My Car Worth?

by Jim Elliott 2020 AACA President

I am certain we have all been asked this question and also certain we have asked someone else this same question.

For those of us who collect cars, the value of the car is always important. We don't want to overpay and certainly do not want to part with a car for a bargain price.

So, what are our choices for determining value? There are many appraisers that will give you their estimate of value for a few hundred dollars. Most of these "guesses" come from a value guide or auction results.

The value guides are often published by insurance companies. But be careful, that high insurance estimate also works to generate a higher insurance premium.

Auction results are unpredictable. Not only are bids determined by the number of bidders but also the majority of the seller listing agreements allow for "phantom" bidding by the auction company. This is done to guarantee that the reserve price is met.

But the real answer to the question is "your car is worth what someone else will pay for it." Unfortunately, with fewer people entering the old car hobby, you should be concerned about the future value of your car.

A neighbor of mine has a late 30's Packard Sedan for sale. All six of the prospective buyers who have looked at this car were over the age of seventy.

It is time for each member and each region to begin a diligent effort to attract new members. We need to sell the "fun" that is available with our hobby.

More activities, such as shows, tours, and picnics, will always generate more members. Our cars need to be seen by the public.

We need to seek venues to display our cars, such as county fairs or antique malls. We have a great hobby in which a small minority of car owners participate. The best way to solidify the value of your collection is to increase our membership.

I hope the day doesn't come when no one wants an antique car.

How to get to the “aacalibrarian” store on eBay

The AACA Librarian’s eBay store has over 2,000 active buy-it-now listings, including reproduction factory photos of various cars & trucks, books, sales literature, shop manuals and more.

You can find the AACA Librarian’s eBay store by going to the eBay’s advanced search page and scrolling to the bottom of the page where the last section is for finding sellers. Check the boxes “Only show items from:” and “Specific sellers (enter seller’s user IDs).” In the left hand box below “Specific sellers” choose “Include” and type “aacalibrarian” (no quotes, no capital letters and no spaces) in the box to the right of “Include.” I would not suggest altering the “Sort by,” “View results” or “Results per page” boxes. Click on the “Search” button. This will open up the “aacalibrarian” store.

Once in “aacalibrarian,” use the search bar at the top of the page to find specific vehicle photos and manuals, book titles, and racing information.

AACA Library on YouTube

You can go to YouTube and search for the “AACA Library” to see the latest videos that the Library has posted.
